Buffalo Ranch Picnic

A TRIBUTE TO THE NURSES OF CABARRUS MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

After a busy day of chasing the galloping dollar, it occurred to me to go to the Buffalo Ranch to try to land a small fish.

At the gate I had no difficulty in getting the permit to fish. The temperature had the thermometer in a daze. I went up the right side of the beautiful lake and started fishing. Soon I was attracted by two maidens up a sycamore tree calling to me (tenderly), "Please help us! Please help us! The cows are after us." Then it seemed to be my move, so I took a brush in my hand and moved the cows (long horn) to one side and the little maidens came down to go back around the lake to the others of the nurses outing party. I asked them why they were afraid of the Long Horn Cows. Answer: "They were looking at us." I said, "Didn't you have any one look at you before?" Answer: "Not like that."

Now to the serious side of the event. After the student nurses went across the lake to join the others there was a great amount of laughter and good time shouts. Then all was quiet for a few moments and singing of one of the greatest hymns came over the lake, "What A Friend We Have In Jesus," and other hymns (Vespers).

In conclusion, I caught two fish and realized that there is hope for a world in turmoil and strife with leaders who recognize the Savior of the world.

Gratefully yours,

It is with sincere appreciation that we have presented this yearbook to you -- students, administration, faculty, and friends. As you scan its pages from time to time, we hope that it will become for you a symbol of the courage, dedication, and devotion that we as nurses must display. May it be ever reminding that ideals are like stars; we will not succeed in touching them with our hands, but like the seafaring man on the desert of waters, we choose them as our guides, and following them we reach our goals.

We are truly indebted to and grateful for Miss Carrie Young, advisor to the 1966 CAP and PIN staff. Her loyalty and untiring efforts have inspired us to press ever forward while following her example -- always extending a helping hand and a word of encouragement.

Our thanks we also extend to each one who gave us support and help in preparing this yearbook.
